"Ich Dien"

THE OBJECT of this Club is individual development, a united effort toward harmony, charity, and that broad culture which comes through service to others.

History

THE EBELL CLUB OF LOS ANGELES owes its plan of organization to the Ebell of Oakland, California, which was founded in 1876, by Dr. Adrian Ebell of Berlin. This eminent educator became convinced that the great need of the feminine mind was the study of science and philosophy. He therefore founded an "International Academy of Sciences," with headquarters in Berlin; and he designed to establish "Chapters" in all the large cities of the world. The first of these to be formed on the Pacific Coast, was the result of a lecture delivered by him in Oakland. Dr. Ebell dying shortly afterward, the Oakland Chapter decided to sever its connection with Berlin, reorganize the Society on broader lines, and name it for its founder. The following year, the system of study in departments was inaugurated, which secured the success and permanence of the institution. In 1894 two charter members of the Oakland Ebell, Mrs. H. W. R. Strong and Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, united with Miss Emmie H. Parsons and Miss Alice K. Parsons, in calling a meeting for the formation of a Los Angeles Ebell, on lines similar to those of the Oakland Society. Mrs. H. W. R. Strong became its first President, and to her indefatigable efforts and fostering care are due the remarkable growth of the infant organization. For a year The Ebell of Los Angeles met in the Misses Parsons' parlor, but as it increased in membership, it sought successively three rented homes. To its second President, Mrs. Clara B. Baker (now Mrs. Robert J. Burdette), the Club is indebted for substantial financial assistance and wise advice in the purchase of a lot, the sale of which made it possible to obtain the present location, where in 1905 the Club House was built.

We have had philosophers, original thinkers who were makers of history at home. Impressions of California

(As through a glass darkly.)

In this beloved land, so young, so new,
We're prone to say we have no history,
Though Nature, with her wand of mystery,
Has touched the land, till ev'ry shade and hue
Of Natural Wonder startles into view
Prodigal and Prodigious. But to be
Historic echoing sounds must ceaselessly
Ring through the years that nothing can subdue.

If 'mid the myriad flow'rs and perfumed groves
We pause a list'ning moment, we may hear
Historic sounds vibrating sweet and clear . . .
The Mission Bells . . . their ceaseless echoing proves
They are the history superb and grand
Of California, Nature's Wonderland.

Hark! can't you hear them low and clear . . .
The Mission Bells . . . now far, now near,
Soft-cooing like a flock of doves,
Or 'mid the Eucalyptus groves,
Among the mocking birds they throng
To lend fresh cadence to their song,
Then through the flow'rs drift lazily
To join the restless, surf-mad sea.
Till on a crested wave they break
In snowy foam and spray, and shake
With laughter, as they all join hands,
And scurry o'er the thirsty sands,
Like Nereids set free to roam
Beyond the boundaries of their home.
Returning to the flow'rs they ring
A whispered matin, and they fling
A hurried Ave to the breeze
That stirs the festooned pepper trees,

Then upward, to the mountain tops,
They wander wide, with many stops,
And back again, careering free,
To chime a vesper o'er the sea.

Long, long they rang unheard, forgot,
Lamenting for the havoc wrought,
By politics and selfish greed,
But now they ring for joy, indeed!
Remembering hearts a means have found
To blend these broken waves of sound
In one unceasing, vibrant song,
That seven hundred miles prolong,
And now they chime by night and day.
Along the sea-girt King's Highway.

Evening: the West a warm, pure, virgin gold,
The mountains like a houri veiled
In seven folds of misty gauze; the bold
Stone headlands tinted with the sea that failed
To hold its sapphire from the grasp of night,
Whose eager fingers sieze each jeweled light.

The Streets like polished mirrors hold the sun,
Then catch the violet shadows, length on length,
And lure the noisy motors one by one,
Until a mazy net, of monster strength,
Shrieks madly through the waning opal light,
Past plodding, tired pedestrians left and right.

The brazen, brawling blackbird is at rest;
A humid hush falls on each bush and tree;
The humming bird has sought its cup-like nest;
The mocking bird still sings exultingly;
The citrus trees their yellow lanterns light . . .
'Tis Fairyland this California night.

President's Report

THE Annual Reports of an organization may be compared to the architectural drawings for a great building. First in importance is the Ground Plan and foundations, showing dimensions and shape of rooms; then the Blue Prints of elevations, with height and thickness of walls; there are Detail Drawings, giving size and ornamentation of openings, capitals of columns, keys of arches, designs of friezes; and finally there is the Water Color sketch of the finished building, with its relation to its surroundings, its purpose and its general effect. This last is Impressionistic in character, and deals rather in total results than in constructive details; and its object is inspirational, rather than practical.

In this volume of reports of the Building of Ebell, will be found all the working-plans of its construction; but to the President falls the pleasing duty of tracing finished results, and presenting in bold outlines the edifice which others have built with skill and labor.

When the Ebell Club was organized, Los Angeles was a provincial town; and it has faced the colossal task of keeping pace with the city, which in twenty-two years has become a metropolis. Modest hopes and aspirations have been forced to expand so rapidly, that only the most skillful nourishment has enabled them to bear their own weight. Many of the women who laid the first foundations of the little, homeless Ebell of 1894,—grown old in service, and wise from experience,—have helped shape her fortunes in the past year; and the efficient Club of today is recruiting its force from the daughters of those who have grown gray in its ranks.

Its methods and objects change but little, except as it expands to meet the demands of the times. The enfranchisement of the women of California, has enlarged the scope and responsibility of the Club and new activities have developed. Politics, civics and philanthropies have claimed broader consideration, and the burden of management has increased correspondingly. The Ebell of Los Angeles aims to be "All things to all women." To the students, its departments offer a wide range of studies. To those who seek a knowledge of the world's events, famous lecturers have told of contemporaneous activities. To the literary, the best in poetry, essay, drama and fiction, is unfolded. For the philanthropic a wide range of interest is presented. Science, art, music, languages, the Bible,—all have a place in the Club curriculum. And all this is developed in an atmosphere of friendly charity which makes her service a delight.

The luncheons held this year for distinguished guests, have brought the Club in touch with many of the men and women who are doing the world's work; and the receptions given have been notable events in the social life of the city.

The Club is facing a year of wide opportunity. Its finances are on a sound basis. Its equipment is complete; its force of workers unusually strong. Never was the world so in need of Light Houses founded upon rock, to throw a guiding gleam over the seething waters of war, dissension and anarchy. May the members of Ebell so unite this coming year as to be a sixteen-hundred-candle-power beacon of Truth, and Peace, and Inspiration.

F. C. G. BARTLETT, President.

Report of the Recording Secretary
1915-1916

AT THIS time, the approaching close of the Club year 1915-1916, one marked by new achievement and success, we find Ebell looking to the future with the steady gaze of ever-broadening vision; and it is scarcely to be realized that this epoch is closing; rather that the next, greater and brighter, because of its sequence in the history of the Club, is at its beginning.

On the opening day, October fourth, 1915, many familiar faces were noted, that of our beloved President, Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, in the same office as the preceding year, being most welcome and reassuring, others known, some changed to different service and some officers entirely new had entered the work with fresh enthusiasm.

Ebell no longer needs the devoted care given her in her infancy but the guiding hand of those who, as she has waxed, have also grown in experience.

Her twenty-first birthday anniversary was celebrated on October twenty-sixth, 1915. Felicitations were received from far and near. A birthday party was given with Past Presidents and Charter Members as guests of honor.

Then the routine of the busy year was felt with the sounds of occupation and happy industry.

One minor chord rose at times above the harmony, the sad cry from the sufferers in the European conflict, but each time it has sounded within her hearing, Ebell has come with ready assistance to these fellow-men.

At the regular meeting on Monday, January tenth, Mrs. Fisher, the Second Vice-President, occupied the chair. Her opening remarks were an expression of regret at the illness of our President but she gave the assurance that although the trouble was of a serious nature, recovery and health would soon be gained.

At the five succeeding Mondays, as well as at the Directors' and Executive Committee meetings, our First Vice-President, Mrs. Ashley, presided, giving each time, news of Mrs. Bartlett's returning health; and on February twenty-first our President was again with us, and was greeted with joy and congratulations on her reappearance.

Mrs. Ashley, First Vice-President, has on many occasions represented Mrs. Bartlett and Ebell; as Chairman of the Printing Committee has supervised the printing of the Year Book; and as member of the Philanthropy Committee has visited the Public Schools and other institutions and attended conferences in the interests of our forward work.

Mrs. Fisher, Second Vice-President, Chairman of the Program Committee, has given us over thirty Monday programs of greatest interest, embracing sixteen lectures, many of them illustrated, ten musicales, dramatic readings and other subjects, contributing to the interest of our members, calling out, in almost every instance, audiences so large that our auditorium has shown itself inadequate in size.

Our Christmas observance program, given on December twentieth, was an interpretative recital by Blanche Hardy Morgan, assisted by a trio of voices. Mrs. Morgan read "The First Christmas," a play of the Nativity, by Susanna C. Ott, which was later produced by Mrs. Goldsmith for the Municipal Celebration on Christmas Eve at Exposition Park. This was like a beautiful service read in the gathering twilight and will long be remembered by those who listened.

On Monday, December twenty-seventh, Ebell was hostess to her little children. Mrs. Bartlett greeted them with words of welcome, Santa Claus made his last appearance, and a beautiful Christmas play, "The Advent Light," was presented by Mrs. Goldsmith.

On December thirty-first Ebell gave a dancing party to her sons and daughters. It was a delight to meet the younger generation on this occasion and to know that the future membership is so full of promise.

On Monday, January third, 1916, the semi-annual business meeting was held. With the subject of "My Department: Its Contribution to Ebell," the Curators, announced by Mrs. Bartlett, expressed their interest in their respective Departments, showing with pride their growth and progress and telling of gains to be made during the remainder of the year. On this occasion the Treasurer, Miss Rockwell, made the announcement that Ebell was out of debt, having recently paid the last $1000.00 indebtedness, and showed a balance of goodly proportions.

April twenty-third of this year being the tercentennial anniversary of the birth of William Shakespeare, Ebell, who ever pays tribute to this greatest of dramatists, fittingly celebrated this date by scenes from the "Merchant of Venice," given by Miss Sarah Truax and Tyrone Power with able support. The Trial Scene from the "Merchant of Venice" by the French Department, and a brilliant address by Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt of Berkeley.

Mrs. Van Bergen, Third Vice-President, Chairman of the House Committee, keeper of our Lares and Penates, has been ever mindful of our needs. The greatest improvement during the year has been the oak floor on the stage with the stair covering and trimming. Extensive repairs were made in the court and basement at the time of the rains, etc. Our largest purchase was twenty-five tons of coal. On all occasions dainty refreshments and menus have been served, giving, altogether, the air of cheer, hospitality and comfort to our household.

Mrs. Blakeslee, our Fourth Vice-President, Chairman of the Membership Committee, has kept the register of our members, and since the closing of the Club last November with a membership of 1550, has formed a waiting list from which to enter new members when vacancies occur.

Miss Wilson, our Corresponding Secretary, took this office with every requirement at her command, writing letters of welcome, thanks, congratulation and condolence with beautiful expression of sincerity and concern.

Mrs. A. B. Cooke, our Federation Secretary, has ably filled this office which calls for so much correspondence.

Mrs. William Milton Kinney, Chairman of Credentials, has been, with her assistants, faithful in her charge of the doors. And Mrs. Charles S. Anderson, Chairman of the Ushers' Committee, with her staff, has made the ever-increasing audiences welcome, and with tactful care has regarded all measures for safety and comfort.

From the opening day when we were surrounded by gorgeous sprays of roses, through our autumn, Christmas and spring seasons, our Decorating Committee has supplied us with flowers and greenery often in direct keeping with the program. Mrs. Dwight S. Moore and Mrs. S. M. Goddard serve on this Committee.

To welcome alike our own members, strangers and guests, is the pleasant duty of the Courtesy Committee of which Mrs. Oscar A. Trippett was Chairman and Mrs. W. F. Botsford assistant.

The Symphony Committee, with Mrs. W. L. Jones as Chairman, did its work effectively as usual. Six interpretative lectures were given in the Music Department by Mrs. Ethel Graham Lynde, with Mrs. Gertrude Ross at the piano. Herr Tandler, leader of the Symphony Orchestra, also gave a lecture before the Music Department at the beginning of the year.

From the first, one of our keenest interests has been the candidacy of Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, one of our Charter Members, for the Presidency of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and on the opening day a resolution endorsing her candidacy was read and unanimously approved. Throughout the year every effort has been put forth in her support and a splendid delegation of women represented Ebell at the Biennial held in New York City in May; and on May thirty-first Mrs. Cowles was elected to the Presidency of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Ebell has, during the year, endorsed the following resolutions and legislative measures:

Resolution addressed to the Board of Education endorsing Military Training in the Public Schools.

Endorsement of the Keating-Owen Child Labor Bill.

Resolution to keep Indian Affairs out of Politics; sent to our Representatives in Washington.

Resolution on the death of Mrs. James Warren Holder.

Endorsement of a Bill before Congress to have sign posts on the desert marking roads and water holes.

Endorsement of the Wild Flower Garden in Exposition Park.

A petition to the County Supervisors requesting them to appropriate the sum of $40,000.00 for the construction of an out-of-door theater in this city.

March fourth to eleventh the Federal Children's Bureau held a nation-wide campaign for the care of infants. Exhibits were maintained in almost every city of the Union. Ebell gave great assistance to the exhibit and observation in Los Angeles, having a Committee present during the time and Mrs. W. H. Fisher, Second Vice-President, and Mrs. A. B. Cooke, General Federation Secretary, presided at one of the evening sessions.

The State Conference of Social Workers held its annual meeting in Los Angeles from May second to sixth. These lectures were largely attended by members of the Club, and on Thursday, May fourth, Ebell was hostess at a luncheon given in honor of these guests in our city.

On Friday evening, June twenty-third, the Club tendered a reception to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Francis, who are leaving the city. Mr. Francis has, for many years, filled the position of Superintendent of Public Schools in Los Angeles, and Ebell wished to give her members and their friends an opportunity to meet them once more before their departure.

Before disbanding for the year a meeting of the members of Ebell was held in the open. This took the form of a picnic at Eagle Rock Park and was delightfully informal. The ladies formed into small groups for luncheon and later enjoyed music, dancing and charming sociability.

And so, another year has passed; has written its history in the annals of our Club with no uncertain stroke.

Our standards turn to the same goal, the same accomplishment hoped for, all working together, and each in the joy of working to make ourselves worthy of the responsibilities placed upon us as citizens and as women.

Respectfully submitted,

ELEANORE S. MACAULAY,
Recording Secretary.

July first, 1916.

Report of the General Curator

DEPARTMENT work in Ebell during the year 1915-1916 has increased in volume and efficiency. The fifteen Departments that have been organized as need has arisen are doing earnest, conscientious work that is bound to leave an indelible impression upon the character of the Club. Each Department, working under the stimulus of an ideal, has enlarged the scope of its activities, and has endeavored to meet the intellectual and spiritual needs of its members and to create that friendly atmosphere which is so essential to the general progress and welfare of Club life.

A larger number of women have attended Department meetings during the past year than ever before in the history of the Club. Eight hundred twenty members registered for Department work—an increase of seventeen per cent over the year before. The total enrollment in all Departments amounted to two thousand one hundred fifty—a gain of forty-two per cent. Twenty-five per cent of the women who attended Departments have joined Ebell during the past two years.

It is significant to note that the largest percentage of attendance has been in Departments requiring a certain amount of study.

Over six hundred visitors were entertained.

The register shows that six women attended twelve Departments; two, eleven; four, ten; six, nine; ten, eight; eighteen, seven; twenty-eight, six; thirty-six, five, and so on in increasing ratio.

Two new Departments, Voice Training and English, were organized during the year.

Department luncheons have played an important part in the social life of the Club. Those having them in charge have given freely of their time and skill to produce harmonious surroundings, and the exquisitely appointed tables and beautifully decorated rooms have added in no small measure to the pleasure of the hour.

An enjoyable feature has been the table talks by visitors—often authorities on the lesson of the day. Among these speakers have been some of our noted artists, playwrights, theatrical stars, authors and well-known Club women from abroad.

The reading room, with leading periodicals, encyclopedias and other books of reference, has proved an attractive refuge to the member who for a short time sought a place for rest and quiet.

One hundred dollars' worth of books were added to the circulating library, and a card index catalog of the books has been placed in the reading room for the convenience of members, who are cordially invited to use the books.

THE BROWNING STUDY DEPARTMENT, Mrs. Thomas B. Stowell and Mrs. Sidney J. Parsons, Curators, held sixteen meetings with the largest percentage of attendance of any Department. A retrospect of the year's work shows the reading of five dramas: "The Return of the Druses," "A Blot in the 'Scutcheon," "Colombe's Birthday," "Luria," "A Soul's Tragedy." The characters were given out in advance, carefully studied, and then presented as active readings. This method made the play interesting and vivid, and the discussions which formed a large part of the morning's work were animated and instructive.

A leaflet of one hundred fifty questions on the dramas was prepared, and proved most helpful as a basis of study.

Shorter Browning poems were read by way of illustration, and papers and songs by the members gave added interest. Special features were the reading of "Andrea del Sarto" by Mrs. Zoe Ballard Fuller, and an address on Browning's Love Poems given by Doctor Bertha Lovewell Dickinson at the annual luncheon in honor of Browning's birthday.

There was an enrollment of ninety-five and an average attendance of fifty.

DEPARTMENT OF EXPRESSION, Mrs. Fred Betts, Curator, read, analytically, Emerson's Essays, "Memory," "Celebration of Intellect," "Country Life," "Concord Walks," "Boston," and "Michael Angelo" from "History of Intellect." Able papers on Education, Philosophy and Poetry were read.

Reverend E. Stanton Hodgin interpreted some of our national problems in the inspiring address, "Daniel Webster, or Our American Ideal—Liberty and Union," which he gave at the last meeting in May.

It is the earnest purpose of this Department to promote American idealism by the study of American poets and thinkers. There was an enrollment of one hundred twenty-four and an average attendance of forty-two.

SHAKESPEARE DEPARTMENT, Miss M. E. Elliott, Curator, Mrs. Edward North, Instructor, studied three plays, "Hamlet," "Merchant of Venice" and "As You Like It."

That the study of Shakespeare, next to that of the Bible, is the most fruitful in producing a workable philosophy of life, is evidenced by the wonderful influence Shakespeare has upon the world at large and also upon the individual, as shown in a small way in the continued interest and growth of the Shakespeare Department of Ebell. As the study in this Department continues from year to year, so does each year bring to the constant attendant a clearer understanding and an enlarged horizon as to the "Fate of the manchild the meaning of man."

The study this year revolved, as ever the study of any genius does, upon the pivot of life—the effect of its outer and inner forces upon the soul. Life, depending for its outward, temporary, worldly name upon Fate, for which we are only at least partially responsible; life, depending for its real name as tragic or otherwise, upon the atmosphere, the intent of the inner life. We know that "Sweet will be the uses of adversity" to one who carries the atmosphere of "I do not set my life at a pin's fee" and joyfully listens and is lovingly grateful to the great ones who have paused in their travel to reassure us that "We fall only to rise, are baffled only to fight, sleep only to wake."

Enrollment was one hundred thirty-four—average attendance sixty-three.

Responding to a growing demand for an opportunity for the analytical study of English, the Executive Committee in January organized an English Department with Mrs. Ilot Johnson, Curator.

From the first this has been one of the most enthusiastic and popular Departments in the Club. Mrs. Johnson by her tact and her grasp of the subject proved herself the ideal teacher for this Department, and much good, fundamental work has been accomplished. There was an enrollment of eighty-seven and an average attendance of forty-eight.

Realizing that a well-placed speaking voice is an excellent, and a very necessary thing in the modern Club woman, the Executive Committee in November organized a class in Voice Training, with Miss Jessie Weimer as instructor. Meetings were held in the auditorium every Tuesday. The work proved so attractive and helpful that members appealed to the Board to change the class into a Department. In April, the Department of Voice Training was formed, with Miss May Neill, Curator, and meetings, as heretofore, were held every Tuesday.

The enrollment was sixty-five and the average attendance twenty-seven.

THE DRAMA DEPARTMENT, under the supervision of Mrs. Frank King and Mrs. Eugene T. Pettigrew, Curators, has given fourteen programs, ten by members, four by guests.

The work all came under two heads—the presentation of dramatic materpieces produced in foreign countries (specializing on Russian dramatic literature); and study and presentation of the work done by Little Theaters, schools and colleges of our own country.

The first line of work culminated in a scholarly talk on modern Russian literature by Miss Gertrude Darlow of the Public Library; the second, in the presentation of "The Shepherd in the Distance," Holland Hudson, by the pupils of the Manual Arts High School under the most able direction of Miss Maude Howell. Among the plays studied were: Ibsen's "Lady of the Sea," "The Man With a Dumb Wife," by Anatole France, "The Life of Man" and "The Black Maskers" by Leonide Andreyeff; Paul Hervieu's "Trail of the Torch."

Mary Shaw, the eminent actress and Club woman, who was a luncheon guest, gave an illuminating talk on the trend of the theater of today, laying especial emphasis on its powerful influence in the community. Miss Sarah Truax, a gifted actress, read the "Lady Godiva," and Dr. Reinhardt, of Berkeley, discussed some phases of modern drama.

Enrollment was one hundred sixty-six, and the average attendance was seventy-five.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC was without its regular leader, Mrs. Harmon Ryus, who has served efficiently and loyally as Curator for several years, after having prepared the programs for the year, was unexpectedly called to San Francisco. Fortunately her capable assistant, Mrs. J. T. Fitz Gerald, was able to step in and carry on the work in a manner pleasing to all.

As has been the custom for the past three years, Herr Adolph Tandler, leader of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, was speaker at the opening meeting.

The three opera lectures, "Prisonier du Caucase," "Le Roi de Lahore," and "La Dame de Pique," by Mr. Jaroslaw de Zielinski, were scholarly and instructive.

"Goyescas," the new opera, which was presented for the first time on any stage by the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York last winter, was delightfully interpreted by Mrs. Ethel Graham Lynde.

The Department considered itself very fortunate, indeed, to be able to secure Mr. Havrah Hubbard for two of his operalogues, "Otello" and "Falstaff." Mr. Hubbard was accompanied by Claude Gotthelf, a pianist of note.

The series of interpretative lectures on the programs of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, by Mrs. Ethel Graham Lynde with Mrs. Gertrude Ross at the piano, were highly appreciated by the music lovers of the Club and their friends.

The enrollment was two hundred ninety-six and the average attendance one hundred fifteen.

BOOKS AND CONVERSATION, Mrs. John Stearns Thayer, Curator, spent a profitable year reviewing American literature, noting particularly its two most important achievements in the world of letters—the short story and the magazine. Essays and lyric poetry were also dwelt upon.

Through cooperation with the Public Library, the Department was enabled to secure for its members two fine exhibits; one on bookmaking, when rare prints, wood blocks and etchings were shown; the other a collection of early magazines.

One program was given by Mr. James Armstrong —an authority on the subject—on book-plates which he illustrated with many rare specimens, and Mrs. George Millard, a book collector, on bookbinding; this lecture was illustrated by an exhibit of choice bindings.

Enrollment was two hundred twenty-eight—average attendance one hundred eighteen.

PARLIAMENTARY LAW, Mrs. Charles S. McKelvey, Curator, included in the year's work the study of Secondary Motions in their relation to the Main Motion and to each other. The organization of assemblies and conduct of business, and the rights and privileges of members and chairman as given in Robert's Rules of Order Revised. The leader of this Department has been untiring in her efforts to make clear the important principles of parliamentary law.

Enrollment was fifty-one — average attendance sixteen.

CIVIC DEPARTMENT, Mrs. Loren O. Crenshaw, Curator, has attempted to study the civic problems of Los Angeles and the questions of the day rather than to follow a set program. An opportunity to know the workings of the local bureaus for social betterment has been afforded by talks and discussions with the officials in charge of each bureau. The Department is especially indebted to Mr. Donoho of the Municipal Employment Bureau and to Miss Richardson of the Housing Commission. Two debates were given by the members, one on the advisability of "Assessment District," and the other on the larger question of "Preparedness."

The main points of the Laws of California pertaining to the property rights of women were discussed at the closing meeting of the Department by Mrs. Loren O. Crenshaw and Miss Litta Belle Hibben, Assistant District Attorney.

There was an enrollment of seventy-six.

ART AND TRAVEL, Mrs. Grantland S. Long, Curator, has, this last year, under the leadership of Miss Helen A. Brooks, instructor, followed the universal direction—"America First," and visited important cities and significant sections of our country.

After the general survey of the Expositions, the city of Washington and its arts and New York City and its great opportunities passed in review. After this was considered, New England with its touch on American character, its literary centers and its contribution to Art; the South and its part in the building of the Nation; the great Middle West and its dynamic forces, and, last but not least, the accomplishments and the magnificent possibilities of the future of our own state and city.

Enrollment was three hundred three — average attendance ninety-four.

CALIFORNIA HISTORY AND LANDMARKS, Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, Curator, began the year with an enrollment of one hundred one members and closed with two hundred twenty-nine, an increase of over one hundred per cent, convincing proof that the history of our state is of increasing interest to the members of Ebell Club. The programs presented were about equally divided between the Spanish, Mexican and American periods of occupation, and each received its equal share of interest and attendance—another indication that we are as much interested in our own history as we are in the more romantic and spectacular events of the Spanish days of California.

Noted speakers and singers have given generously of their ability that the programs might be made interesting and the work of arousing sentiment for the history of California made permanent.

The enrollment was two hundred twenty-nine, and the average attendance eighty-seven.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SCIENCE, with Mrs. Charles N. Flint and Mrs. Sumner P. Hunt, Curators, held eight meetings with interesting programs.

Mrs. Frank Gibson, Educational Chairman of the State Immigration Commission, gave a talk on the making of immigrants into American citizens. The need of a Mothercraft School in Los Angeles was explained by Mesdames Waddel, Gallentine and Redman, social service workers.

"The Discovery of the Future," "The World Set Free," and "The Research Magnificant,"—studies of social conditions, by H. G. Wells, were ably reviewed by members.

A series of articles by H. G. Wells on "What Is Coming," published in the Saturday Evening Post, were studied during the last half of the year and were discussed under the following heads: On Prophesying Peace, The End of the War, Reconstruction or Revolution, Political Conditions in a Reconstructed World, The Lawyer in Politics, The Nations in Liquidation, The New Map of Europe, and The White Man's Burden (Great Britain, France, Russia and the United States).

The closing program in June consisted of a reading of Euripides' "The Trojan Women," by Mr. Reginald Pole, to which the Drama Department was invited.

There was an enrollment of seventy-six.

Owing to continued illness, Mrs. David S. Barmore resigned her position as Curator of the Department of French in January, and Mrs. B. W. Zens, a popular member, was appointed to fill the vacancy. Under the guidance of Madame de Kerpezdron notable progress has been made both in speaking and in translation. This being the second of the three years' course, the authors studied were those of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries; Pascal, Madame de Lafayette, Madame de Maintenon, Fenelon, Montesquieu, Saint Simon, Voltaire, Buffon, and Rousseau.

A literary and musical program was given in March, and the Tercentennary of Shakespeare was most delightfully celebrated in April with a presentation of the Trial Scene from "Merchant of Venice," musical numbers from Shakespeare and a lecture on Shakespeare by Madame de Kerpezdron. There was an enrollment of ninety-eight and an average attendance of twenty-seven.

The members of BIBLE LITERATURE, Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, Curator, have appreciated the rare privilege of having so gifted a leader to interpret anew the old, old stories and to reproduce in glowing word-pictures the scenes in which they were laid.

The course of study covered many forms of literature—history, biography, character-sketches, romance, poetry and description. The love stories of Rebecca, Rachel, Ruth and Delilah were touched upon; the Widow of Zeraphath and the Great Lady of Shunem each made her separate appeal. The lost books of the Bible were discussed, an Oriental Drama, with Joseph for the hero, was enjoyed and descriptive gems and poetical passages read.

The attendance has been marked by lack of fluctuation, many members were present at every meeting, and a large number were absent only once or twice.

The enrollment was one hundred two.

The Department member with perceptions quickened and mind alert discovers anew, as students from the beginning of time have done, that "Learning is ever in the freshness of its youth even for the old."

With the broadened outlook, which is the inevitable outcome of thoughtful study, comes the vision of service, and the club woman of today, ministrant, while working out her own freedom, reaches forth a helping hand to all the world.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. S. WARD, General Curator.
